Full Environmental Assessment Form Part 1 - Project and Setting

Instructions for Completing Part 1

Part 1 is to be completed by the applicant or project sponsor. Responses become part of the application for approval or funding, are subject to public review, and may be subject to further verification.

Complete Part 1 based on information currently available. If additional research or investigation would be needed to fully respond to any item, please answer as thoroughly as possible based on current information; indicate whether missing information does not exist, or is not reasonably available to the sponsor; and, when possible, generally describe work or studies which would be necessary to update or fully develop that information.

Applicants/sponsors must complete all items in Sections A & B. In Sections C, D & E, most items contain an initial question that must be answered either "Yes" or "No". If the answer to the initial question is "Yes", complete the sub-questions that follow. If the answer to the initial question is "No", proceed to the next question. Section F allows the project sponsor to identify and attach any additional information. Section G requires the name and signature of the project sponsor to verify that the information contained in Part 1 is accurate and complete.

Full Environmental Assessment Form Part 2 - Identification of Potential Project Impacts

Project : Date :

Part 2 is to be completed by the lead agency. Part 2 is designed to help the lead agency inventory all potential resources that could be affected by a proposed project or action. We recognize that the lead agency's reviewer(s) will not necessarily be environmental professionals. So, the questions are designed to walk a reviewer through the assessment process by providing a series of questions that can be answered using the information found in Part 1. To further assist the lead agency in completing Part 2, the form identifies the most relevant questions in Part 1 that will provide the information needed to answer the Part 2 question. When Part 2 is completed, the lead agency will have identified the relevant environmental areas that may be impacted by the proposed activity.

If the lead agency is a state agency and the action is in any Coastal Area, complete the Coastal Assessment Form before proceeding with this assessment.

Tips for completing Part 2:

- Review all of the information provided in Part 1.
- Review any application, maps, supporting materials and the Full EAF Workbook.
- Answer each of the 18 questions in Part 2.
- If you answer "Yes" to a numbered question, please complete all the questions that follow in that section.
- If you answer "No" to a numbered question, move on to the next numbered question.
- Check appropriate column to indicate the anticipated size of the impact.
- Proposed projects that would exceed a numeric threshold contained in a question should result in the reviewing agency checking the box "Moderate to large impact may occur."
- The reviewer is not expected to be an expert in environmental analysis.
- If you are not sure or undecided about the size of an impact, it may help to review the sub-questions for the general question and consult the workbook.
- When answering a question consider all components of the proposed activity, that is, the "whole action".
- Consider the possibility for long-term and cumulative impacts as well as direct impacts.
- Answer the question in a reasonable manner considering the scale and context of the project.

1. Impact on Land Proposed action may involve construction on, or physical alteration of, the land surface of the proposed site. (See Part 1. D.1) If "Yes", answer questions a - j. If "No", move on to Section 2.	□ NC) 🗆	YES
	Relevant Part I Question(s)	No, or small impact may occur	Moderate to large impact may occur
a. The proposed action may involve construction on land where depth to water table is less than 3 feet.	E2d
b. The proposed action may involve construction on slopes of 15% or greater.	E2f
c. The proposed action may involve construction on land where bedrock is exposed, or generally within 5 feet of existing ground surface.	E2a
d. The proposed action may involve the excavation and removal of more than 1,000 tons of natural material.	D2a
e. The proposed action may involve construction that continues for more than one year or in multiple phases.	D1e
f. The proposed action may result in increased erosion, whether from physical disturbance or vegetation removal (including from treatment by herbicides).	D2e, D2q
g. The proposed action is, or may be, located within a Coastal Erosion hazard area.	B1i
h. Other impacts:

2. Impact on Geological Features	٠,

FAIRMOUNT AVENUE WELL FIELD

Fairmount Avenue

A site inspection of the Fairmount Avenue well field was performed on November 14, 2014. The ecological community types, as defined by Edinger et al (2014) in "Ecological Communities of New York State, Second Edition," observed at the well field include a subsystem of barrens and woodlands identified as pitch pine-oak forest; and a subsystem of a terrestrial cultural communities mowed lawn with trees, and paved road/path Pitch pine-oak forest: This community type is describes as, "Pitch pine-oak forest: a mixed forest that typically occurs on well-drained, sandy soils of glacial outwash plains or moraines. The dominant trees are pitch pine (Pinus rigida) mixed with one or more of the following oaks: scarlet oak (Quercus coccinea), white oak (Q. alba), red oak (Q. rubra), or black oak (Q. velutina). The relative proportions of pines and oaks are quite variable within this community type. Examples can range from having widely spaced pines that are often emergent above the oak canopy to a nearly pure stand of pines with only a few widely spaced oak trees. The shrub layer is well-developed with scattered clumps of scrub oak (Quercus ilicifolia) and a nearly continuous cover of low heath shrubs such as lowbush blueberries (Vaccinium pallidum, V. angustifolium) and black huckleberry (Gaylussacia baccata).

The herbaceous layer is relatively sparse; characteristic species are bracken fern (Pteridium aquilinum var. latiusculum), wintergreen (Gaultheria procumbens), and Pennsylvania sedge (Carex pensylvanica)."

Mowed lawn with trees: This community type is describes as, "residential, recreational, or commercial land in which the groundcover is dominated by clipped grasses and forbs, and it is shaded by at least 30% cover of trees. Ornamental and/or native shrubs may be present, usually with less than 50% cover. The groundcover is maintained by mowing and broadleaf herbicide application." However, applications of herbicides do not typically occur.

Paved road/path: This community type is describes as, "A road or pathway that is paved with asphalt, concrete, brick, stone, etc. There may be sparse vegetation rooted in cracks in the paved surface."

Wildlife

The New York Natural Heritage Program (NYNHP) was contacted for information regarding the known populations of rare, threatened or endangered species. As indicated in correspondence dated November 12, 2014 (attached), the New York Natural Heritage database has no records of rare or state-listed animals or plants, or of significant natural communities, at the well field site.

Due to the time of year that site inspection occurred, wildlife including, but not limited to, avian species observations were limited. The New York State Department of Environmental Conservation Breeding Bird Atlas (BBA) was reviewed to obtain a more specific representation of the avian species that may potentially utilize the site for breeding, foraging, and/or stopover habitat. Attached is a copy of the 2000-2005 Breeding Bird survey for the census block encompassing the project site. The BBA census block spans an area covering three square miles.

According to "Ecological Communities of New York State," characteristic birds of the pitch pine-oak forest "with varying abundance include eastern towhee (Pipilo erythrophthalmus), common yellowthroat (Geothlypis trichas), field sparrow (Spizella pusilla), prairie warbler (Dendroica discolor), pine warbler (Dendroica pinus), and blue jay (Cyanocitta cristata)."

Characteristic fauna of the mowed lawn with trees ecological community include "gray squirrel (Sciurus carolinensis), American robin (Turdus migratorius), mourning dove (Zenaida macroura), and northern mockingbird (Mimus polyglottos)."
